IV. Reports:

President's Report:

ECC students are no longer given priority admission to CSULB and this includes students at Compton .

CSULB has changed its designated local service area, so as to not include ECC or ECC CEC, while including such districts as Coast College in Huntington Beach. Transfer students are being turned away.

Chris Wells pointed out at the ECC Academic Senate that students who get into the UC system are not getting into CSULB.

Michael said that we need to realize that service areas have always had issues. We need to be careful. Admission is based on GPA and test scores and lower achievers are being turned away. Three years ago, 60% of high school students who enrolled in feeder schools got in. Today, it's 20%.
