

Career & Technical Education (CTE) Employment Outcomes Survey 2015 El Camino College, Compton Center

Background

Skills-building students from El Camino College, Compton Center were surveyed if they met one of the following criteria in 2012-2013, and did not enroll in 2013-2014: earned a certificate of 6 or more units, earned a vocational degree, or earned 9+ CTE units. The survey was administered in early 2015 by e-mail, telephone and US mail. The survey addressed student perceptions of their CTE program, employment outcomes, and how their coursework and training relate to their current career.

A total of 531 students were surveyed and 109 unduplicated students responded, 19 of whom responded by e-mail (17.4%), 64 by telephone (58.7%), and 26 (23.9%) by US Mail, for a total overall response rate of 20.5%.

Results

- Respondents were asked their primary reason for studying at El Camino College, Compton Center, and the majority (67.0%) indicated earning a certificate or degree (with or without transfer). Figure 1 shows the results.

- Respondents were asked why they stopped taking classes at El Camino College, Compton Center. Here are the most frequently cited reasons, in rank order of frequency:

- ✓ My goals were met (58)
- ✓ I completed the program (49)
- ✓ I got a job (33)
- ✓ Transferred to another school (30)

- 42.2% of former students were “very satisfied” with the education and training they received at El Camino College, Compton Center, and 46.8% were “satisfied” for an overall satisfaction rate of 89.0%.

- 44.0% of respondents indicated they had transferred to another College or University.

- 71.6% of respondents are employed for pay. Figure 2 shows the results.

- Overall, statewide, students who transferred have 1.9 times the likelihood of being unemployed and not seeking employment (6.2% for not transferring vs. 11.9% for transferring), likely because they are enrolled at a four year institution.

- Respondents were asked, if currently employed, how closely related their job is to their field of study at El Camino College, Compton Center. 48.2% indicated they are working in the same field as their studies and training, followed 26.5% indicating they work in a field that is “close” to their studies and training, and 25.3% indicated their job is not related to their studies. When asked if they were actively seeking a job in another field, 71.1% of employed respondents said no.

- Of those respondents who engaged in a job search after finishing their studies, 95.0% reported finding a job and 5.0% were still looking. Of those with a successful job search, 83.0% found a job within six months (53.2% within three months).

- Of currently employed respondents, 17.1% had been employed at their current job less than six months, 21.9% between six months and one year, 26.8% between one and two years, 8.5% between two and three years and 25.6% had been employed at their current job for more than three years.

- Before their studies, 26.6% of respondents worked full time. After completing their studies, 47.7% work full time. Figure 3 shows the results.

- The hourly wage of all respondents increased 50.6% from their hourly wage before their studies ($15.52) to their hourly wage after completing their studies ($23.38). Figure 4 shows the results.

- Respondents, including those who had transferred, were asked what impact their coursework had on their employment. Here are the responses, listed in rank order of frequency:

- ✓ Enabled me to learn skills that allowed me to get a job at a new organization (24)
- ✓ Prepared me for a possible new job (22)
- ✓ Enabled me to learn skills that allowed me to stay in my current job (11)
- ✓ No impact on my employment (11)
- ✓ Enabled me to learn skills that allowed me to get a promotion at my same organization (10)
- ✓ Enabled me to start my own business (3)

Summary and Conclusions

The results of the survey showed that completing CTE studies and training – whether or not a credential is earned, whether or not a student transfers – is related to positive employment outcomes. The preponderance of respondents are employed, are working in the same field as their studies or training, and are working full time. Respondents overall posted a 50.6% increase in their hourly wage after completing their studies at El Camino College, Compton Center and the vast majority were satisfied with the education and training they received.
